IMPORTANT MEETING.

Since arrangements have been made by officers of the Redcliff & District Welfare Association to hold a get-together meeting here for the purpose of going through into the irrigation project for this district, and taking the next necessary step in order to bring the matter before the proper authorities, it is hoped that all will take the interest in the movement that the importance of it deserves.

There is no doubt that the working out of some system of irrigation is the only solution of the farming problem in this district. It has been proven beyond doubt that we have the best soil in the world in this district if only we can get the moisture out of it and now that the opportunity is at hand to make some move to solve the problem it should be taken advantage of.

This is a matter that townspeople as well as farmers themselves should be interested in as a thriving farming community, with a farmer on every quarter section in the district, would be a greater benefit to the town than even further industrial development. In fact the development of the farming district would naturally be followed by the industrial development in town as a market for several lines of manufactured goods would thus be created at our very doors.

Let everybody, therefore, get interested in this movement and show by their attendance at this meeting Monday that they are behind it and willing to give it every assistance possible.

A WISE MOVE.

The Alberta Federation of Labor in convention assembled in Calgary this week, acted wisely in turning down the proposal that all union men go on a forty-eight-hour strike as a protest against the outcome of the trial of Russell in Winnipeg. The convention almost unanimously decided to take the same, more dignified and more effective plan of protesting to the government and requesting that changes be made in the present laws to which exception was taken by acting in this way the Federation will have the sympathy and support of all classes of labor whether they belong to unions or not, and if the time should come when more drastic action is necessary they will still have that support so long as they proceed along constitutional lines and avoid all unnecessary turmoil and suffering.

As a reason for the raising of gasoline and kerosene one cent a gallon, the Standard Oil Company says it is owing to the recent increase in the price of crude oil. That sounds all right—maybe. But when it is remembered that it was only a few weeks ago Mr. Rockefeller gave a few million dollars away for educational purposes that "crude oil" stuff doesn't go down very well. The general public would be more inclined to believe that this extra cent was put in to make up for Mr. Rockefeller's "liberal gift."

The result of recent by-elections in Great Britain shows that the slackening of old party ties is spreading in all directions.

In the old country the labor party is creating much the same sensation as is the Farmers' party in this country.

YOU CAN HELP.

Now that the holiday season is over and the usual rush that goes with it has passed, it is the intention of the Review to make a special effort to get our paper out on time every week in the future. It will be our aim to have the paper on the street and in the post office every Thursday afternoon about four o'clock.

In fulfilling this one of our New Year's resolutions our advertisers and friends can assist us very materially by getting their changes of advertisements and news items into the office on time.

With this end in view we have decided that all changes of advertisements must be in the office by noon on Wednesday of each week, and all items of news stories, etc., must be in by Thursday noon.

We trust that our friends will remember this in future and assist us in this matter.

THE PEACE BELL.

We understand that the committee appointed to procure a bell for the school out of the proceeds derived from the peace celebration here last summer, are experiencing some difficulty in carrying out their task because of the limited amount of money at their disposal.

The amount of money on hand for this purpose is only some $140.00, and it is impossible to get a bell suitable for the purpose of this amount. The committee has been in communication with several firms and individuals and has learned that bells of the desired tone and texture are not made in Canada, but that a suitable one could be procured in France, if only the required funds were available.

Since this is to be known as a "Peace Bell" to commemorate the bringing about of peace after the great war, and since the war was largely fought in France, what more appropriate than that our bell should come from that country. If, therefore, the required funds are not now available to make this possible, the Review would suggest that a special effort be made by our citizens to raise an additional amount sufficient to procure a bell that will be appropriate and lasting. This, we believe, could easily be done if all took the same interest in the movement as they did in the peace celebration.

COST OF STRIKES.

That industrial disputes resulting in strikes are very expensive in lost time is illustrated by a summary of industrial disputes, published in the report of the National Industrial Conference, Inc. During the eighteen years, 1901-1919, there were 2,127 industrial disputes in Canada, resulting in strikes, involving 620,235 employees and time lost in working days of 14,597,523. The financial loss involved directly in lost time would, therefore, run into many millions of dollars, to say nothing of losses caused by resulting dislocation of trade and industry. Building and construction trades lost with 492 disputes, closely followed by metals, machinery and conveyances, with 426, while transportation and mining came third and fourth with 232 and 197, respectively. The Province of Alberta, during the same period, had 144 disputes, involving 37,203 employees, with time lost in working days of 956,523. These figures indicate the wisdom of spending considerable effort and money in endeavoring by whatever means may be found in the ever means of all concerned, to prevent industrial disputes resulting in strikes.

MAJOR-GENERAL MEWHURN, Who is to retire from the Union government. He has been minister of militia and defence since the organization of the Union government.

NO CENTRAL ORGANIZATION FOR FARMERS

The all-important question of the farmers' convention held in Winnipeg, namely, whether there should be formed a national organization, has been settled. According to resolution there will be no central organization at this time. Each province will retain local autonomy in the working out of its own organization. The opinion of the convention that organizations in various provinces cannot be united by artificial machinery, but that as spring from a similar economic basis they will grow together naturally, in consequence there will be no name given to the political movement and no other policy of a national character adopted, further than is stated in the platform of the Canadian Council of Agriculture.

Ontario, Manitoba and Alberta are organized on industrial group basis. Saskatchewan attempting to carry its organization into effect. The movement to work itself out on basis of provincial autonomy will afford experience in both methods, either of which may be subsequently adopted.

The Canadian Council of Agriculture was authorized to all another inter-provincial conference "when such" is deemed necessary. Co-operation with labor but not amalgamation was urged.

Alberta May Prohibit Liquor Warehouses

Whether or not Alberta has power directly or indirectly to prevent warehousing of liquor within its bounds is the question now being looked into by the attorney-general's department. It is found that provincial legislation can be passed to that effect, it is possible that action will be taken at the coming session.

Hon. J. H. Boyle said yesterday that as he has stood now, both Dominion and provincial, there was no way of preventing the establishment of warehouses for the export of liquor outside of the province. There was no licensing system for such vendors called for under the act, and the provincial government had no control over the shipments into or from other provinces.

The attorney-general said, however, that he realized the fact that most of the warehouses so established would be used for bootlegging within the province, and he was therefore desirous of prohibiting them if it could be done. He is in the meantime regarding judgment as to whether such action is possible or not.

Drury Advocates Practical Education

Premier Drury, addressing the Canadian Club at Ottawa, Ont., on "Education," declared the present system resulted in 90 per cent of the public school pupils ending their educational program with their departure from the public schools and being inadequately equipped for the tasks before them in the world. Training men for citizenship, right thinking and right living, as was done by teachers in the pioneer days was desirable in these days, the premier declared. One solution of the rural school problem suggested by Premier Drury was the appointment of permanent male teachers, whose salary and standing in the community would be equal to the salaries and standing of the ministers of the gospel.

The premier said the public school teachers should train the pupils along the lines for which they were best adapted, and not make examinations the supreme test. He believed the public schools should train the pupils 17 years of age, instead of 14 years.

Refuse to Recognize Law Forbidding Strikes

Determinedly refusing to recognize any law that forbids labor, the right to strike, sympathetically or otherwise, and asking that the laws be so amended to remove any dispute as to the legality of strikes, the Alberta Federation of Labor, in convention at Calgary this week, turned down the committee's report on the resolution submitted by the Calgary Trades and Labor Council, which suggested a strike as the means of protest against the imprisonment of Russell for taking part in a sympathetic strike, and almost unanimously passed the amendment submitted by Delegate E. E. Royce, of Edmonton. There were only eight votes against the amendment, the balance going solidly for the resolution.

England Interested In Canadian Industry

Inquires through the Canadian trade commission in the old country are eloquent of the fact that the manufacturers and traders of the United Kingdom are taking an active interest in the industrial development of Canada. Mr. B. H. Brown, mayor of Medicine Hat, and president of the Industrial Congress, the sessions of which will take place in June of this year, has received numerous enquiries from overseas sources about the 1920 meetings, the last of them from L. B. Best, trade commissioner at Winnipeg. Mr. Best intimates that it is the intention of a great many English business men to attend the congress next June, and arrangements are being made to have some of them included in the list of prominent speakers who will address the delegates.

Manitoba May Prohibit Liquor Exportation

That the provincial government of Manitoba will decide to prohibit exportation of liquor from Manitoba was intimated by Hon. T. H. Johnson, attorney-general. "It is not the people who want the liquor," he asserted. "Those in the business are the only persons who want exportation privileges."

It is understood that the government has received application for permit to open an export warehouse in Manitoba, and that a definite reply has not been made to the applicants. The liquor policy of the provincial government is under discussion by the cabinet, Mr. Johnson stated.

Kaiser Will Try to Evade Extradition

The allied demands for the extradition of the former Emperor William of Germany, in which it is believed United States will not participate, are expected at The Hague about January 15th.

Recent press dispatches have stated Count Hohenlohn might surrender rather than embrace the Netherlands government, but it is believed positively he will rely on the protection of Holland and her refusal to honor the allied demand.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the citizens of the town of Redcliff:

The officers and members of the Redcliff Citizens Band wish to extend our hearty thanks to the Watzung Orchestra and Mr. G. G. Patterson and his wife for their assistance in making the band boys dance such a success.

We hope with the co-operation of all in Redcliff to have this coming summer the first musical organization in this district.

Yours faithfully,

Wm. MILLER, Secretary.

FAVOR ST. LE CONTROL OF WHEAT MARKETING.

A resolution that the national marketing of wheat be controlled "not later so long as the principal countries importing Canadian wheat retain governmental control of their imports and distribution" was adopted at a meeting of the Canadian council of agriculture held in Winnipeg this week.

CONSTANTINOPLE TO BE NATIONALIZED.

Internationalization of Constantinople and the straits of the Bosphorus has been decided upon along the lines laid down by Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain, in a recent speech, according to the Maitin. It seems certain, the newspaper says, that the seat of the Turkish government will be transferred to Asia Minor and be located near Bursa or Konia. Details of the form of international control which will be established over Constantinople have not as yet become known.

Local Government
To Investigate Irrigation
The outcome of a conference between the Alberta cabinet ministers and George G. Anderson, the Los Angeles California, irrigation expert, is that Mr. Anderson has been asked to prepare an official report on his investigations for submission to the legislature. He will probably remain until the work is done.

The proposed irrigation scheme in the northern Lethbridge district is not only feasible, Mr. Anderson states at the conference, and he has satisfied himself that adequate water supply was available. He had found the survey work already done by the Dominion government to have been carried out with great care and accuracy, but the estimate of cost that had been currently accepted, largely on the basis of unofficial authority, he believed to be considerably under the amount that would actually be required.

Storage of Ice
For Summer Use
The storage of a few blocks of ice for summer use is a very simple matter where the ice is readily available. Any unemployed corner of a shed will serve for the purpose. A rough excavation 10 feet square and 6 feet high will hold enough ice to provide 50 pounds per day for 180 days, after allowing for a reasonable amount of wastage. The smaller the quantity stored, the larger is the proportion of waste.

The bottom of the endow is should be covered with about one foot of sawdust. If the soil underneath is impervious clay it will be all the better if there is a few inches of gravel under the sawdust. In putting in the ice the boards can be taken away from one side and rolled after the ice is in position. An space of one foot should be left between the ice and the boards to be filled with sawdust, and the ice should be covered with about the same thickness. It is the sawdust which keeps the ice from melting. The drier the sawdust is the better the ice will keep, and it is a good plan, if the ice is removed during the summer, to throw out from time to time the driest of the sawdust where it will be under cover and continue to dry out and thus be in better condition to be used again the following year. The ice should be cut in blocks of uniform size and packed as closely together as possible.

If sawdust cannot be obtained, plaster mill shavings may be used for packing the ice, or in cases where neither is available may be used as a packing or covering material.

TRADES AND LABOR
ENDORSE TEACHERS.
At the Trades and Labor convention held in Calgary this week endorsement was given the Teachers' Alliance movement for a $12,000 minimum wage their request for the privilege of conducting with the school boards on educational questions and the proposed model form of contract.

Bland Will not
Quit his Church
Rev. Dr. S. G. Bland, pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist tabernacle, Toronto, who has a serious disagreement with several members of the quarterly official board of the tabernacle because, according to a statement he made to his congregation, he would not let the monthly interest policy his into certain lines of action or preaching. He told on tele-viewer Tuesday that he did not intend to resign his pastorate.

Lenine Makes Peace
Offer to Allies
Nikolai Lenine, the Russian Bolshevik premier, has made a new peace offer to the allies, which is being taken to London by Col. Tallet, the Russian representative in the Baltic states. Among other conditions included in the offer by Lenine is a promise to abolish terrorism and the activity of revolutionary tribunals.

Labor is After
A 44 Hour Week
Organized labor had its annual interview yesterday with the Dominion government. This year's claims are understood to be far-reaching. They will be of special importance in view of the labor principles (incorporated in the treaty of Versailles) and the action by Dominion government delegates to conventions by the international labor conferences at Washington a few weeks ago. Chief among the labor claims, it is expected will be one of legislation for an 8-hour day and a 44-hour week. Labor men contend that the principle of the eight-hour day was frankly recognized by Canada in the treaty of Versailles and effort should be given to it by legislation. They further emphasize that Dominion government delegates voted for the eight-hour day convention adopted by the Washington conference.

Peace Protocol to Be Signed Saturday
There is every indication now in supreme council circles that the peace protocol will be signed by Germany and ratifications of the treaty of Versailles exchanged on the coming Saturday, Jan. 10, the date tentatively set by council. The council of the league of nations, it is understood, will be called to meet about a week later.
